

Information and Electoral Accountability: Brazil in Comparative Perspective
Universidade Federal de Pernambuco
June 12, 2017

Program

Participants: George Avelino, Mariana Batista, Taylor Boas, Danny Hidalgo, Marcus Melo, Umberto Mignozzetti, Felipe Nunes, Nara Pavão, Carlos Pereira, Lucio Rennó

Note: Presenting author is in bold type.

9:00-9:15. Welcome (Marcus Melo)

9:15-11:30. Malfeasance, Corruption, and Electoral Accountability

Lucia Barros and Carlos Pereira, “Tolerance of Corruption or Ideological Blindness?”

Discussant: Umberto Mignozzetti

Sandra Botero, Rodrigo Castro Cornejo, Laura Gamboa, Nara Pavão, and David W. Nickerson, “Are All Types of Corruption Created Equal in the Eyes of Voters?”

Discussant: Danny Hidalgo

Taylor C. Boas, F. Daniel Hidalgo, and Marcus A. Melo, “Norms versus Action: Voting Against Malfeasance in Brazil.”

Discussant: Lucio Rennó

11:30-11:45. Coffee break

11:45-13:15. Public Goods, Credit Claiming, and Electoral Accountability

Taylor C. Boas, F. Daniel Hidalgo, and Guillermo Toral, “Evaluating Students and Politicians: Test Scores and Electoral Accountability in Brazil.”

Discussant: Felipe Nunes

Felipe Nunes, “Whom do Voters Reward? Experimental Results for the Credit-Claiming Battle in Federal Systems”

Discussant: Nara Pavão

13:15-14:15. Lunch

14:15-15:45 Combatting Epidemics: Electoral Accountability and Provider Incentives

Taylor C. Boas and F. Daniel Hidalgo, “Electoral Incentives to Combat Epidemics: Evidence from Zika in Brazil.”

Discussant: George Avelino

Umberto Mignozzetti, “Incentives in Preventive Health Care Provision: Evidence from Brazil.”

Discussant: Taylor Boas

15:45-16:00. Coffee break

16:00-17:00. Field Experiments in Brazil and Beyond: Promises and Perils

Mariana Batista, Taylor C. Boas, and F. Daniel Hidalgo, “Conduzindo Experimentos de Campo na Ciência Política: Limites e Possibilidade.”

Discussant: Carlos Pereira